Thursday, May 27, 2010, members have been invited to tour the 5 acres belonging to Jerry Lawson at 359 E. Kelly Road, across the road from Kelly Ridge Feed Store. Their driveway is between barbed wire fence on the east and woods on the west. Tom Westergreen says “Jerry’s 5 acres shows why many of us join WCFFA. We love to grow trees. See what Jerry has done with his wet, brushy site. There will be lots to talk about that can relate to your property. This property is not only the Lawson’s home, but also excellent low land habitat to many animals, birds and amphibians.” The tour begins at 5 PM and will take about 2 hours.

Directions: ½ mile east of Guide Meridian at 359 E. Kelly Road, across the road from Kelly Ridge Feed Store.

Friday, June 11, 2010, is the 27th Annual Woods Tour sponsored by the Whatcom County Chapter of Washington Women in Timber. Board buses at the Deming Log Show Museum at 8:00 AM. Reserve your seat by calling 360-592-5300.

Wednesday, June 23, 2010, a tour is planned for Arnie and Eileen Thiesen’s tree farm from 5 -7 PM. More information will be sent in June.
